The Day of Sravana Purnima has lot of significance in the Ancient Indian way of learning. Hence all the traditional and modern institutions imparting Sanskrit education in India and abroad mark this auspicious day as Sanskrit Day and celebrate with great faith and concern. Rashtriya Sanskrit Vidyapeetha, Tirupati, being one of the very few pivotal Sanskrit Educational Institutions of our country, pays more attention and celebrates this occasion as "SANSKRIT WEEK" under the sponsorship and recommendations of the Ministry of Human Resource Development, Government of India, as an annual event consisting of a grand variety of programmes of erudite, cultural and spiritual importance.

Hence this year also with the graceful blessings of Lord Sri Venkateswara this Sanskrit Week has been grandly celebrated with great interest of all the inmates of the institution from 31-07-2012 to 06-08-2012.

HEARTY WELCOME

The Inaugural Function was commenced at 4.00PM on 31-07-2012 in the Indoor Stadium choked - a- block with elite, faculty, students, media and admirers of Sanskrit.

The Chief Guest of the Day, Sri Kanumuri Bapi Raju, Honorable Member of Parliament, Government of India and the Chairman of Tirumala Tirupati Devasthanams, in his Inaugural Address vouchsafed the necessity of Sanskrit in the contemporary world. The greatness of Sanskrit was emphatically applauded by the Chief Guest. He stressed upon the need of Sanskrit for a firm moral foundation of the future generations. He further added that character based education is possible only with Sanskrit. On this occasion he opined that those who thoroughly learn Sanskrit can only maintain perfect pronunciation of Mantras in an appropriate manner and only such utterances lead to attain ecstasy in devotion winning the favor of the GOD of the GODS, SRINIVASA for the wellbeing of the worlds.

The presidential address of Honorable Vice Chancellor Prof. Hare Krishna Satapathi began with the emphasis on the need of celebrating the Sanskrit Week in connection with Sravana Purnima highlighting the importance of this day in the Indian tradition. On this occasion his speech reflects that Sanskrit Learning is aptly comparable to the union of the Three Holy Rivers Ganga, Yamuna and Saraswati of which Ganga representing students, Yamuna representing the Teachers and Sarasvati the perennial stream of knowledge. According to him the main of object of these celebrations is to invoke the Divine Qualities in us all. Only Sanskrit learning enables one to perfectly understand the concept of considering this entire Earth as our Mother and the Sky as our Father. Universal brotherhood is brought among us all only through Sanskrit learning.

Prof. K. Ramasuryanarayana, The Dean of Faculty of Sahitya and Samskriti, conveyed his best wishes to all the students on this occasion.

Dr. Ch. Ranganathan, Associate Professor in Sahitya, rendered vote of Thanks to all.

BHAJANA SANDHAYA : THE PINNACLE OF THE DEVOTIONAL SPIRIT

The Students of Vidyapeetha with a great zeal and devotion participated in the Bhajana Sandhya and with electrifyiong voices sang in praise of various Gods and Goddesses. The Presence of the Chief Guest of the Day Sri Kanumuri Bapi Raju, in the Bhajana Sandhya was a special mark of inspiration to all. The Noble minded, always do by themselves and lead others also to do. The Chief Guest himself in an ecstatic mood participated in the Bhajans of the day and encouraged all to involve in the activity.

THE FLAVOR OF EPICS AND SASTRAS RELISHED 01-08-2012

Sastras, Puranas and epics are also the best entertainers provided they are presented in an attractive manner. The Same was proved by the Students of the Vidyapeetha through dramatisation of various sastra and purana aspects. Dr. Somanath Das was the convener of the Event.

GARLAND OF LETTERS TO GODDESS SARASWATHI 02-08-2012

This is one of the most splendorous events of the Sanskrit Week. This has been always a much awaited annual event of the programme. This is a feast to the connoisseurs and lovers of letters. While Prof. K. Ramasuryanarayana, Dean of Faculty of Sahitya and Samskriti, chaired the session, the Chief Guest of the event was none other than the Best of the National Poets Prof. Hare Krishna Satapathy, Hon'ble Vice Chancellor. The other poets who galvanized the audience with their resonant and splendid poems were: Prof. Radha Kanth Thakur, Prof. GSR Krishna Murthy, Dr. C. Lalitha Rani, Dr. Rani Sadasiva Murty, Dr. Somanath Das, Dr. Balichakravarthi, Dr. Bharatabhushana Rath, Dr. Pradeep Bagh, Mr. Nagaraju and Mr. Akhilesha Mishra.

THE VALEDICTORY TAKE HOME THOUGHTS 06-08-2012

It was in the afternoon of 6th August 2012 the Valedictory Session was grandly held in the presences of all the invited guests, Faculty, Sanskrit admirers and students.

The Inspiring Message of Hon'ble Vice Chancellor Prof. Hare Krishna Satapathpy is thought provoking and the cream of the long churned ideas of the literature.

In his message he said "This is not the end of the end of the Seven days' programme.

But this is the prelude of the new academic year." He further said that Acquiring Knowledge has four steps

- Learning, Undurstanding, Practice and finaly Propagation. With the help of Sanskrit only the humanlife is elevated. This is the oath taking day. All the studentsshould earn knowledge from all sources and preserve in their intellect just like the honey bees collect honey from all the flowers of a garden and preserve in their hive. Then the human life will be full of Honey. Industry and faith are the two essentials for all human beings and particularly Sanskrit students also should not forget this for the development of Sanskrit and also of all the Sanskrit learning generations.

While Dr. Satyanarayana Acharya Acted as the Master of Ceremonies of this Session, Dr. Rani Sadasiva Murty, The Coordinator of these Week Day Celebrations, rendered the Vote of Thanks to all.
